THIS IS SAFETY WEEK
TAKE CARE

THESE DRIVERS AND JAY-WALKERS SHOULD LEARN
Safety Week came nearly being started yesterday by accidents that might have proved costly to the purse as well as to the physical well-being of the occupants of the cars, if one driver had not been more cautious and used better judgment than the others.

The first near-accident occurred at the intersection of Seventh and Cass streets, a very bad corner, by the way, especially during the noon hour. A man driving a car came north on Cass while a lady came south on Seventh. The man, being to the right of the lady driver, had the right of way at the intersection. Instead of permitting the man to proceed ahead of her, the lady cut a short and dangerous curve west, dangerous especially at this intersection because a driver might have been coming east on Cass and an accident would have been inevitable. The lady had no deliberation in the making of a rule of the road. She became "fused" at the sudden approach of the man on her right, and instead of stepping on her brakes she stepped on the throttle and manipulated her wheel with not very good judgment. The man whose right was being usurped noticed this nervousness and played safe by slowing up until the lady "got her bearings" again.

Another near-accident occurred at the corner of Seventh and Main streets. A man driving a car was going south, while another driver suddenly appeared around the Y. M. C. A. building going east. Three girls were "jay-walking" in a northeastern direction to cut through Barnes' park. The driver in the car going east wanted to make the turn to go north on Seventh. He didn't see the car going south on Seventh, this being a "blind" corner, but he did see the "jay-walking" young ladies, and in order to avoid them he made a short left corner cut instead of going the roundabout way, and thereby barely missed cutting into the driver going south on Seventh, who, aware of danger lurking at this blind corner, had approached the intersection cautiously and with good judgment.

There was an instance where motorist and pedestrian were equally culpable. The young lady "jay-walkers" were breaking a rule of the road and thereby endangering their well-being, while the driver who cut the sudden corner to his left instead of going around the "jay-walkers" was endangering the life and property of a perfectly innocent and for the moment helpless driver going south on Seventh.

THE MORAL
Don't "jay-walk." City streets are not a country lane. You are protected and your rights are respected on the regular crossings. Keep to the beaten path—the regular crossings, and you will help greatly to reduce accidents. And this warning to motorists cannot be made too strong: Don't cut corners. What's your hurry anyway? Put the hurry bug out of your head. You'll get there just the same and perhaps in a lot better condition to enjoy what you are going after.

ORDER FARM PROBE
WASHINGTON, D. C.—A resolution providing for a general inquiry of agricultural conditions by congressional commission, urged by farm organizations, was adopted Tuesday by the house. It already had been adopted by the senate.

ALLEGED HOLDUP MAN CAUGHT AT GENOA TUESDAY

Herman Jensen Detained at Central Station as Man Connected With Affair at Old Style Inn

PULLED FROM UNDER FREIGHT CAR AT POINT OF GUNS

Communication from Thomas Autlett of Stoddard Leads to Arrest of Bandit

HERMAN JENSEN, identified by Clarence Shisler as the "hold-up" man who pulled the "job" at the Old Style Inn Monday night and escaped with $120, is in jail at Central police station here after being arrested and brought to the city Tuesday night from Genoa.

Officers of the local police force got the "drop" on Jensen in the railroad yards at Genoa as he lay sheltered from a terrific rain storm under one of a string of box cars.

Message Leads to Arrest
Jensen, who is alleged to have given an assumed name, was arrested in the railroad yards at Genoa following a communication from Thomas Autlett, Stoddard, friend of Shisler, who had read the account of the hold-up in the evening Tribune and Leader-Press. Declaring that the man appeared to be a suspicious looking character, Autlett phoned the local police from Stoddard, stating that he had met a man walking between Genoa and Stoddard answering the description of the one given in the local paper.

Immediately following up the clue and on the orders of Chief of Police John B. Webber, Officers Wolfe, McGrath and Reznouk made a flying trip down the river road to Genoa. Arriving at the railroad yards in the midst of a storm, the officers inquired of a worker if he had seen a stranger in the vicinity. Pointing to a string of box cars, the worker declared he had noticed someone crawl under the car and to seek shelter from the rain.

Arrested Under Car
Within a few minutes, the officers, one on each side of the car, got the "drop" on the man before he knew anything was around. Pulling him from underneath the car, no was stripped of his revolver and brought to the city lock-up.

Jensen's connection with the hold-up affair was definitely brought to light, it is said, when a description was being taken of him at Central station Tuesday evening. Jensen, declaring that he had no scars on his head as a search was being conducted, Chief Webber said: "It's funny those night didn't put some scars on your head." Jensen revealed his identity, it is alleged, when he declared: "Oh, they were on the other side of the bar."

In answer to a reporter's inquiry as to his residence, Jensen said that he was a "reformed" man, adding that he did not wish to discuss the matter or have his parents learn of his night-time escapades. Jensen, declaring that he had no scars on his head as a search was being conducted, Chief Webber said: "It's funny those night didn't put some scars on your head." Jensen revealed his identity, it is alleged, when he declared: "Oh, they were on the other side of the bar."

People Bare Heads
The funeral procession this morning moved west on Cass street, from the bishop's residence at Fourteenth street, to Fifth street, north on Fifth to Main and then east to the Cathedral. As the procession of school children moved slowly along the sidewalks, scores of people lined the sidewalks and men bared their heads as the hearse passed by. Just ahead of the hearse were the altar boys of the Cathedral, led by Father Pape, and they chanted prayers as they marched.

A continual stream of people, that started entering the Cathedral within a few minutes after the body of the bishop was placed in its bower of flowers in front of the main altar, continued all afternoon.

Guard of Honor in Place
The guard of honor took its place beside the casket which was embedded in flowers at 8 a. m. today and will be changed hourly throughout today and tonight until the hour for the funeral, Thursday at 10 a. m.

At 9 a. m. the office for the dead will be chanted. Fathers Riestter and Fries, chanters.
The organ loft will be barred to all except members of the choir of the Cathedral of St. Joseph.
Solemn requiem mass will begin at 10 a. m.
All masses and other ceremonies Thursday will be on standard time.

Those wishing to see the body may visit the cathedral at any hour this afternoon or evening.

Charles Fries of Summit, Wis. Solemn requiem mass will begin at 10 a. m. Archbishop J. J. Keane of Dubuque will be the celebrant.

Chief of Police J. B. Webber on Wednesday issued a request that traffic should avoid Main street between Fifth and Seventh streets on Thursday morning as much as possible, in view of the congestion expected to be caused by the crowds attending the funeral ceremonies for Bishop Schwebach. Cars are requested not to park on Main street between Fifth and Sixth, the chief announced, until the funeral procession has moved from the church, and traffic in general is asked to keep to other streets in order to avoid accidents.

THREE BIG TAX BILLS SLATED FOR KILLING
Committee Recommends Indefinite Postponement of Measures Providing Additional Revenue

OVER 44 MILLIONS NEEDED TO RUN THE STATE FOR BIENNIAL
Report Shows Expenses Can be Met by Estimated Receipts

MADISON, Wis.—No increase over present taxation is required to raise the $44,135,503 which the joint finance committee of the legislature judges necessary to operate the state government and state institutions during the coming biennium.

The entire beclouded financial situation that has been hovering over the session practically from its start, was cleared up Wednesday by the complete finance committee report laid before both houses at their morning meeting.

Tax Bills Slated for Death
Along with the financial statement showing how receipts will approximate disbursements, came the recommendation for indefinite postponement of the Dahl income tax bill, the Arnold income tax bill, and the Severson surtax bill.

Passage was recommended for the first automobile privilege tax measure calling for an assessment of two per cent against the valuation of all automobiles in the state. This proposal it adopted would relieve the general property tax for highway purposes, but would levy no additional burden.

Expenditures
Expenditures are recommended by the finance committee for the next two years, excluding $1,770,000 raised for highways to meet federal aid, are as follows:

1921-22—$22,600,346.
1922-23—$22,686,968.

Receipts
Receipts as estimated by the finance committee, including the railroad tax of $7,000,000 annually, an inheritance tax of $2,000,000 annually, on the basis of the new Arnold bill doubling rates, and an income tax of $450,000 in 1921-22 and $400,000 in 1922-23 approximately are as follows:

1921-22—$22,601,844.
1922-23—$22,674,550.

Estimated receipts for the biennium will approximate $44,135,503, leaving a deficit of $398,402 for the first year and $812,408 for the second, or $1,210,810 for the biennium. This apparent excess is met by a balance in the general fund.

Financial Outlook Bright
The state has the best financial outlook in six years. E. A. Kiekhoefer, former secretary of the state board of public affairs, told the committee after the statement had been laid out. He said that his intimate association with the finances during the past ten years had convinced him that the present outlook is particularly bright.

Evidence of the sound condition of the state finances is shown, the committee points out, by an estimated surplus of $1,500,000 that will be in the general fund July 1. The fund now has $12,500,000 accumulated. Of this amount $5,000,000 is appropriated for highway purposes, and $3,500,000 is from motor car fees, leaving a balance on July 1 of $4,000,000.

May expenses are estimated at $1,600,000, while old appropriations not yet taken from the fund are said to equal $1,400,000 a total of $3,000,000. With $300,000 added for June receipts, a surplus of at least $1,500,000 will be left, according to committee estimates.

Appropriations
Individual recommendations by the committee for annual appropriations to state departments and agencies, without the revolving funds added, follows:

Board and commissions, $2,000,000.
Board of control, $1,000,000.
University of Wisconsin, $3,850,000.
Educational departments and state aid, $2,745,000.
Normal schools, $750,000.
Memorial hospital, $250,000.
Appropriations to the board of control and to state departments practically equal their requests. Both the university and the normal schools have had their building programs shown from the budget. State appropriation to the university will total $3,850,000 annually, with over $1,100,000 annually made up from receipts of the institutions' activities and from student fees.

Will Kill Tax Bill
Recommendation of the finance committee for death of all bills adding to the revenue of the state is expected to be followed by the legislature, although an attempt will probably be made to amend the bill.

ANTS UNDERMINING WICHITA BUILDING

WICHITA, Kan.—Hordes of ants, driving upward from the earth through mud tubes, are threatening destruction to the $100,000 exchange building at the Stock Yards here. Caken lumber stored under the building had been seriously consumed and the ants have driven their way up along pipe lines to the wood-work of the west end of the structure which they have tunneled as far as the second floor.

DEMPSEY LIMITED TO TWO MEALS PER DAY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The noon hour dinner bell no longer rings for Jack Dempsey. The world's heavy-weight champion Wednesday was placed on a restricted diet and his eating was reduced to two meals a day, breakfast and dinner. How long this order of things will last depends on the speed and manner in which he takes off weight.

STUDENTS AROUSED OVER ACTION TO ABOLISH HAZING

Student Council Investigating
Fight of Saturday Night;
May Expel Participants

MADISON, Wis.—Student resentment is beginning to rise against the action of the University of Wisconsin senate, which recently abolished university customs of dealing with freshmen, as a result of the Saturday night fracas, when eight lower class members were seriously injured.

Stories of communications have been received by the Daily Cardinal, student publication, protesting against the action. Students attack their representatives for what they say is their failure to regulate hazing.

Testimony in the examination of witnesses Tuesday afternoon brought out little new evidence. Participants apparently were unable to recognize one another, or anyone connected with the affair.

Walker K. Link, '24, informed the committee that bombs made up of sulphuric acid, sugar and potassium iodide were used as well as those containing phosphorus, kerosene and carbon bisulphide. He said that the signal for throwing the missiles which seriously burned a number of students was given by the firing of a gun.

Hearing on the details of the battle, many participants of which are expected to be expelled from school, was continued until Thursday.

FEUD IS REVIVED

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Reports reached here Tuesday that the Bailey-White feud had broken out afresh in the vicinity of Berea, Ky., and that one man had been killed.

Another report from Frankfort said that Governor Morrow had been asked to send state troops to the scene of trouble.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE I. AND R. IS OFFERED IN BADGER ASSEMBLY

MADISON, Wis.—The proposed change in the constitution to establish the initiative and referendum reached the assembly this morning and was laid over as a result of submission of a substitute amendment by the administration forces. The amendment replaces constitutional amendments within its provisions.

When up for consideration in the senate opposition senators removed the section of the Huber resolution which included constitutional amendment within the provision which could be affected by direct action on the part of the people. Administration men opposed the change, and are to make an effort to revive the original resolution.

Not for Women Only

To millions it is bringing whiter teeth

This new way of teeth-cleaning appeals to women. It brings them prettier teeth. But men also enjoy it, and children must use it to properly clean their teeth.

Millions now use it, largely by dental advice. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show the results of its use.

Everyone needs it, as this simple test will show. See the results it brings in ten days and decide that for yourself.

You must fight film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it. Your tooth brush has left much of it intact. And that clinging film may do a ceaseless damage.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles, local and internal.

This film causes most tooth troubles. And, despite the tooth brush, all those troubles have been constantly increasing. Some have become so common as to be alarming.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. The ways have now been found. Able authorities have amply proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a scientific tooth paste. The name is Pepsodent. Its use is fast spreading the world over.

To let all know it quickly, a 10-Day Tube is being presented to anyone who asks. Thus thousands of new people daily are learning its delights.

Combines five effects

But Pepsodent does more than fight film. It fights the acid which is a great tooth destroyer.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is to digest the starch deposits which may otherwise remain and form acid.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer of the acids which attack the teeth.

It combats the film wherever it adheres. It leaves the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling. Pepsin is also included.

See and feel it act

The results are not uncertain. You can see and feel them. Some are almost instant. A ten-day test is most convincing.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

To millions this test has proved a revelation. It has shown them the way to prettier teeth, to cleaner, safer teeth. One does not return to the old ways when he sees what this new way does.

The delightful results

One conspicuous effect is to beautify the teeth. Another is a feeling of cleanliness. Men who smoke will see great changes. It is film that absorbs tobacco stains.

But it is most essential to the children. Young teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Dentists advise that children use Pepsodent daily from the time the first tooth appears. Under old methods, very few children escape some tooth destruction.

To all this test is important. Cut out the coupon so you don't forget to make it. Present it at your store.

"LOVE, HONOR AND BEHAVE"
—RIVOLI—

It would seem that Mack Sennett is determined to help in reducing divorce in the world. His "Married Life" it will be remembered, showed the folly of most marital misunderstandings. Ben Turpin being the agent of reconciliation. "Love, Honor and Behave," a First National Attraction which opened yesterday at the Rivoli for a three day run shows the folly of most suspicions. Charlie Murray being the agent in this reconciliation.

In "Married Life" it was jealousy on the part of the husband who wrongly suspected his wife. In

LOWERED IN PRICE BUT NOT IN QUALITY

"Love, Honor and Behave" it is jealousy on the part of the wife who wrongly suspects her husband. They are but bride and groom and this is their first quarrel. The bride, Marie Prevost, appeals to "Judge" Murray, whom she interrupts while he is seated in his robes at Court. The suspected bridegroom is George O'Hara and this part of the Sennett production is portrayed in high distinction. It being legitimately done, the roles being played straight and the whole affair carried off with dramatic power and conviction.

Ford Sterling, Billy Revan, Kalla Pasha, Eddie Gribben, Fanny Kelly and others round out a veritable all-star cast in an entertainment that like Mack Sennett's "Mickey" will appeal with equal force to the old and young. It is a tonic in five reels for the theater-goer.

"KAZAN"—CASINO

Jane Novak, who will be seen in the leading feminine role of "Kazan," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's virile story of the north, at the Casino today and Thursday, was born in St. Louis, Mo., and educated at Notre Dame convent. Before entering motion pictures she had two years of experience on the stage, during which time she played in vaudeville, musical comedy and stock. Her screen career started with Chinn production, her first big part being in "Eyes of the World." She was then for some time leading lady for William S. Hart. Later she went to Ince, appearing in "A Nine O'clock Town," "String Beans" and "Wagon Tracks." More recently she has been seen in Marshall Neilan's production of "The River's End," also a James Oliver Curwood story. Miss Novak is five feet seven inches in height and weighs 135 pounds. She has blond hair and blue eyes. Her home is in Los Angeles.

"HUSBAND HUNTER"—RIVIERA
 "The Husband Hunter," in which William Fox presents his beautiful and talented young star, Eileen Percy, at the Riviera today only, contains so many elements of true comedy that it is a genuine knockout for "the blues." From beginning to end this screen version of P. Scott Fitzgerald's popular story, "Myra Means His Family," is one continuous laugh-provoker. As Myra Hastings, a frivolous young girl who decided that she would marry Kent Whitney, whom she never had met, Miss Percy triumphed in a most exacting role. Her exquisite beauty, combined with an abundant supply of charm and playfulness, left nothing to be desired. The story sparkles throughout. The most amusing situations are developed from a plot to teach the frivolous one a much needed lesson. The supporting cast includes Emory Johnson, Jane Miller, H. Dunkinson, Evans Kirk, Edward McWade and John Stepling.

FRENCH PLAY AT NORMAL SCHOOL IS FINE PRODUCTION

The play which was presented on Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 in the normal school auditorium by the members of the French department was one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever produced at the local school. The piece presented was "Les Romanesques," a comedy drama in three acts by Rostand. The play was given entirely in French, and was very well interpreted by the cast.

Miss Marie Jarvis, the heroine, was very sweet and charming in the role of Sylvette, and by her clever enunciation and effective acting, brought the story to the audience as clearly as if she had spoken in English. Elizabeth Lien accomplished the difficult feat of taking a masculine part and taking it well. She appeared in the part of Percinet, the dashing lover of Sylvette, interpreting her role in a clever and entertaining style. Another difficult part, that of the bold and blustering adventurer was very ably filled and well acted by Gertrude Collier. She also appeared in the last act in the part of the mason. Eric Ravodan aided forty years to his age and took the part of Bergamin, the father of Percinet, a rather difficult role in which he appeared right at home. The part of Pasquinet, the middle aged father of Sylvette, was taken by Vilas Boyce.

The presentation of the play is an annual feature of the French department. Much of the success of the production which was put forth this year is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Elsie Fox, head of the Romance Language department of the normal school, who had been busy every day for the past month drilling the cast, and coaching them in their parts.

Every comfort of home in Yellowstone Park

"Where you can photograph a wild bear and eat a course dinner in the same hour."

"And you can travel and live in perfect comfort! That is almost the most astonishing thing about Yellowstone. You perhaps can see the buffalo from your seat in a comfortable touring car. You can see the Canyon and the geysers and the Grand Tetons and a dozen bold mountain lakes and streams and yet sleep in as good a bed as you left at home. Literally, the world has nothing like this. Other parks have one attraction, several; but none has all these. And no discomfort or danger or weariness will mar your day's delights."

When you visit Yellowstone National Park, you have the choice of hotels or permanent camps—both under supervision of the United States Government. Such hotels as Old Faithful Inn, Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel, Grand Canyon Hotel and Lake Colonial Hotel are indeed unusual. ## Consider Your Clothes

HAVE you ever stopped to think of the part petroleum plays in converting raw material into the fabrics which are used to make your suit of clothes? From the wool on a sheep's back to the clothes on your back is a long journey and petroleum shortens it at every step.

By machinery lubricated with petroleum, a man may shear from 175 to 200 fleeces a day. By the old method, 50 fleeces would be considered a big day's work.

After leaving the sheep, the wool passes through ten major processes before it is ready for the tailor. Each of these require the use of intricate machinery, having bearings which run at speeds varying from 350 to 12,000 revolutions per minute.

From the clipper to the last finishing machine, a diversity of mechanical conditions exist, each of which has been studied and experimented with, and a lubricant found which meets exactly the needs of the machinery.

In solving these lubricating problems, and manufacturing oils and greases which enable these machines to perform their work, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) always has been among the leaders.

Its staff of carefully trained chemists, refiners, and lubricating engineers are constantly at work, devising new and more efficient means of reducing friction.

This Company computes its success not wholly upon its balance sheets, not wholly upon the number of useful products it manufactures, but rather upon the fact that many of the useful products of petroleum are made from material which otherwise would be wasted, and are made by processes which were evolved in the Company's laboratories.

FOUR SCORES IN TWELFTH INNING WINS FOR GENOA

GENOA, Wis.—It took Genoa 12 innings to defeat the hard hitting Houston team at Houston Sunday. Genoa scored a run in the first and third innings, only to be tied up in the third when, with two on, Langen tripped, scoring both runners. Promley tried to stretch his long drive into a homer in the fifth but was caught at the plate. With two on and two out in the seventh Franzini hit for three bases, and later scored himself when H. Angell doubled.

By clean hitting Houston scored three runs in this same inning, tying the count. Houston had the bases full in the ninth with none down, but a runner was thrown out at the plate, another struck out and a difficult fly to right was nabbed by Falk for the third out.

The game then went scoreless until the twelfth, when the first man up singled, Franzini doubled, H. Angell sent a sacrifice fly to left for a run. Solle then doubled scoring Franzini. Falk walked and stole and both runners scored on Bill Angell's single to center.

Ettrick Here For Game With La Crosse Club

The big attraction at Copeland park next Sunday afternoon will be the clash of the La Crosse and Ettrick baseball teams.

With the addition of "Rusty" Kerr to the pitching staff of the locals the La Crosse team has been strengthened to a great extent and although matched against one of the fastest teams in the northern section, the aggregation is expected to make a killing next Sunday.

Reports from fans in the city indicate that the visitors will present a strong lineup at the game with the La Crosse crew and while the locals have a conservative opinion with regard to the outcome, they are going in with a determination to give the spectators a real exhibition of the national sport.

DIAMONDS DEFEAT RIVIERAS, 4 TO 3

The Diamond baseball aggregation defeated the Riviera outfit of the north side at Copeland park Tuesday evening by a score of 4 to 3. The game went but five innings at which time it was called on account of darkness. Garning but a single safety from the north sliders, the Diamonds scored their runs on errors. "Pink" Berny allowed the north sliders five hits. The game was intended to go the entire number of innings, but was called at the end of the fifth.

Why some men seem to have all the tire luck —

YOU probably know a man whose car is a hobby with him. He knows just why it's the best little old car there is of its class.

And he'll stand up for that car against the world in any kind of an argument.

Year by year an increasing number of men feel the same way about U. S. Tires.

For a while they may try "job lot" stuff, "bargains," "big discounts" and "rebates."

But usually it doesn't take long for a man to sense the economy of the standard quality tire.

For years U. S. Tire makers have been building quality tires for sane tire users—for the car of medium or light weight no less than for the heavy car.

The tire buyers of the land have responded with a mighty U. S. Tire following.

The U. S. Tire makers meet the responsibility for supplying this nationwide following with characteristic energy.

Ninety-two U. S. Factory Branches are established, covering the entire country.

Find the U. S. Tire dealer who has the intention of serving you. You will know him by his full, completely sized line of fresh, live U. S. Tires—quality first, and the same choice of size, tread and type as in the biggest cities of the land.

STREET CAR UNION STARTS OPPOSITION TO ONE-MAN CARS

Make Public Attack on New Equipment by International President of Organization

Opposing the proposed installation of one-man cars on the north side lines, completing the transition of the entire street railway service of the city to that type of equipment, the local street railway employees' union on Wednesday made public a discussion of the one-man car by W. D. Mahon, international president of the union, in which questions are raised as to the safety and satisfactory service of the cars.

The company recently applied to the council for permission to install one-man cars on the north side lines, stating as the only alternative if the utility was to confine operation to an increase of fare to ten cents. The demand was recently condemned by the Trades and Labor council.

The article by President Mahon follows:

An Old Proposition
"In listening to the arguments of the representative of the street railway companies on the 'one-man car' proposition, one would think that all the geniuses of the world had been combined to produce in the one-man car a special blessing for humanity, while the truth is that the one-man car is about as old as the street railway business itself. It is true that the first street cars put into operation did use two horses and a conductor, but this did not last long. The companies soon decided that it would be better for the riding public to have one horse for a car and to have one man do the work of driving and conducting the same. They said to work two horses on a car was a bad proposition; that the horses would jerk in starting up and that would cause sore shoulders for the horses, which would be very bad for the riding public—and so they installed the one-man car with one horse to pull it. This arrangement saved the public the trouble of paying the fare to the conductor. All they had to do was to get on board and deposit the cash in a box and then hunt a strap on which to hang it. It was in fact about the first self-service establishment in our country. It was many years in advance of the one-arm restaurant. Oh I tell you, when it comes to giving service in behalf of the public you have to take your hat off to the street railway companies."

Ordered Out by Law
"As time went on travel so increased that they were compelled to put two-horse cars on—that is, on some of the lines. Then the municipalities had to force them to put conductors on these cars. As time went on electricity was adopted as the motive power to drive street cars. Many of the companies simply overhauled their cars and equipped them with electric motors and continued to run them with one man, and this continued until the legislatures of different states and the city councils of the various cities forced them to change the style of their car and put on conductors in order to protect the public. If you care to hunt the testimony for these facts, go to Louisville, Ky., and see the long fight that that city had to eliminate the small car and put on the large cars with conductors. In Dayton, Ohio, the companies equipped their electric cars with mirrors and other modern devices and had it so arranged that the motorman, through the mirror, could have the interior of his car always before him. Yet with all these arrangements it did not give the proper protection to the public and the legislature of Ohio passed a law compelling these companies to put conductors on their cars in order to protect the public. There are many other cases where the same line of evidence can be brought out upon this subject—so my friends you see the proposition of the one-man car is not a new one. The great trouble with us is, we soon forget the conditions that did exist, and this is a case where the public have forgotten the one-man car and the fight they had to displace it, and they are now trying to put this old, discarded and outlawed proposition over you again. They are gilding it a little with gold and stripes and giving it the appearance of something new."

Cars Run Faster
"Now, let us honestly analyze the one-man car proposition and see if you can find one benefit in it in favor of the riding or traveling public. If you can I will concede without further argument, that they should have the one-man car. There is but one proposition that brings forth the one-man car, and that is the question of finance to the company. It means that one man shall do the work of two in the operation of a car. Does it mean any better treatment to the public? Does it mean more safety to the man who uses the streets? Does it mean more safety to the employee? Does it mean less labor to the operator? Does it mean more safety to the men, women and children that ride upon the cars or that occupy or use the streets? Can you show one single argument that will produce anything of that kind? You know you cannot, and every advocate of the proposition knows he cannot. What do they claim? They claim that they will run the cars faster. What will that do? Will that lessen the danger to the riding public or to the users of the streets? Oh, but he says, the car will be so equipped that the door will be locked and no one can get out until the motorman stops the car and opens the door. Does that mean safety to the public? Is that in line with the motto we see painted on the cars, in the barns, on the telegraph poles—"Safety First?" This motorman with his passengers locked in must cross the steam railroad tracks and other crossings without anyone to warn or signal him. What does it mean if a railroad train bears down upon this car with these passengers all locked in and no way to escape? Stop a moment and think what this means to these people. Suppose this motorman should fall or meet with death while his car is in operation (and that is not an unknown thing, it has happened many times and will happen again.) So see by the use of this car you are increasing the danger, and to add the spreading of it means a greater danger with absolutely no protection provided for. Not only is it a danger to the riding public but to every user of the streets and to the little child playing by the wayside. This motorman will have all the additional burdens of answering the questions of the passengers, making change and doing the other man's work played upon him, and then with increased speed you can readily see what you are confronted with.

Accidents increased
"Let me tell you what the United States Government has to say upon this question and then see what you think of adopting the one-man car. The census of the United States Government in 1902 tells us that the street railways of the country killed one passenger out of every 15,015,804 persons carried. In that same year—1902—it killed one employee out of every 1,354 in service. In 1907 they killed one person out of every 13,603,500 passengers carried and killed one employee out of every 740 employees in service, an increase in those five years for the number of passengers killed of over 100 per cent, and over 138 per cent of employees killed. In 1902 the expenses for damages to the street railways of the country were $9,395,543.00 in 1907 that had increased to $18,176,305.00, or an increase of over 92 per cent. The census of 1912 is silent for some unknown reason upon this subject. We have protested to the Government and asked as to why but have never received any satisfactory answer, but we are satisfied from what we know that the death rate is greater today than it was in 1907. If these figures say anything to you, they say that as a community to protect, you cannot afford to pass any ordinance allowing the use of the one-man car, which means to increase the danger to the life and limb of every citizen of your municipality.
